The Greatest Ever

The Great World's Fair, As Seen Through the Eyes of a Springfield Woman.

Something About Kentucky and Kentucky People Who are Taking Part in the World's Great Fair.

St. Louis, Mo., June 26, 1904.

EDITOR NEWS-LEADER:

Kentucky stands well up in the front ranks at the Great World's Fair. June 26th was "Kentucky Day," and with the single exception of Missouri, it comes out as the red letter day of States. The crowd was simply a crush. The sun shone bright on our "New Kentucky home" and a great generous hospitality was dispensed. Well groomed colored waiters stood by immense punch bowls filled with ice and floating mint and served silver laden mini juleps to ever reaching hands. Great quantities of lemonade and punch, luscious, big, red apples and open delectables for all visitors, proved beyond a doubt that Kentuckians do know just how to entertain.

At night Gov. Beckham received his friends, surrounded by his staff attired in full Regiments, which made a brilliant scene. Near them, floating down from the 3d floor, the beautiful silken flag, which is thirty feet long and broad proportionately brought from China and presented to the Governor by the officers of the Battleship Kentucky. Well's orchestra furnished the music, and "Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie," and similar Southern airs played at intervals throughout the day and evening, always brought forth applause. The luncheon was very perfect in every detail, and among other things on the menu card you found "Kentucky Biscuits," "Kentucky Old Country Ham," "Kentucky Layer Cakes" and "Kentucky Pickles."

Lieut. W. O. Reed of the 6th U. S. Cavalry, (our own Will Reed) was prominent both officially and Socially. On Thursday evening the Kentucky Society of St. Louis entertained all visiting Kentuckians at another elegant reception, and being away from "Green Kentucky Pastures" has not affected their hospitality in any way. Several times through the day and evening the new song "In Green Kentucky Pastures" was given to an appreciative audience.

So many eponyms and mis-leading newspaper stories have gone abroad about this Great World's Show at St. Louis. But people who know, and who saw the Chicago, Paris, and Pan-American Fairs, unhesitatingly pronounce this the best. Some few exhibits are not complete, but neither were they.

The prettiest picture that one could wish to see, is to view at night the beautiful water-way, with the cascade flowing over colored lights, and the misting, cloud-like fountains falling in front of the encircling background, and the Condoliers sing pretty Italian love songs with harp accompaniment, as the Condoliers pass under the arched bridge ways.

The Foreign exhibits are costly and wonderful. "Fair Japan" is here in great shape, and the Japanese people admire us Americans very much. The Philippine Camp attracts more than its share of attention, and the Igorrotes, or dog eaters, are very much the ones that visitors call to see. The Igorrotes are the most famous Cannibal Tribe of the Philippines, but since the advent of the Americans on the island they have given up much of their Cannibalism and now eat dogs. They go entirely unclothed and evidently enjoy their notoriety.

Of the Palaces that of Mines and Metallurgy is to my mind the most perfect specimen of Architecture on the grounds, and the lighting of the building only brings out all its beauty. Of the State Buildings, New York is the handsomest and Kentucky comes in a good second. Our building is not only beautifully planned and built, but so well furnished. St. Louis papers have been very generous in their articles about the Bluegrass State.

Among the hundreds of Kentuckians present to do honor to the Dedication exercises, we saw from our home town Miss Sallie McElroy, Mrs. John S. McElroy, Mrs. Seruggs and son Finley, Misses Louise Booker, Annie McChord, Bettie Irvine and Messrs. Shaker Robertson and John McElroy, also Emmett McElroy, who belongs to Springfield, though he registers from Kansas City. Emmett looks splendidly and as if the world was dealing very kindly with him, and either Springfield or Kansas City should be proud to claim him as her own.

Say to all your readers that things are ready for visitors and there is no disappointment in store for them. All the attractions of the Pike are simply the greatest that ever "came down the Pike," and are grand in their Oriental gorgeousness.

Eats 'Em Alive

Several days ago the little two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vineyard, near this place, was misadvised from the family circle, and her mother being away, started out to look for her. After searching about the place for nearly an hour, she returned to the house, and a few minutes later discovered the child in the dining room, her face and frock all covered with blood. Rushing to the baby she was horrified to see a snake coiled about the little one's arm, striking venomously in every direction. The child had the tail of the snake clutched tightly in her chubby fist, and she was calmly biting off the end and eating it with apparent relish. About two inches of the reptile's body had been masticated before the frantic mother took it away. The child's face and arm were terribly bitten by the infuriated snake. Physicians were hastily summoned who examined the wounds, but pronounced the child in no danger. Fortunately the reptile was a garter snake whose bite is not poisonous. It measured eighteen and a half inches. When or how the child caught it is a mystery, but she has apparently suffered no ill effects from her awful meal. Harrodsburg Herald.

Rinehart-Eubank

The Oakland (Cal.) Bulletin has the following account of the wedding of Mr. W. B. Rinehart formerly of this place:

"During the afternoon of yesterday Miss Eugenia Eubank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Eubank of 1115 East Twenty-second street, East Oakland, married the bride of William Barbour Rinehart, a young attorney of that city. The ceremony took place at the parental home in the presence of friends and among a garden of delicately tinted and fragrant flowers.

Under a floral arch of suffusing pink the bridal party led by the bridesmaid and best man, Miss Susan Eubank and A. S. Mayes followed by the bride on the arm of her father, paused and the officiating minister, Rev. Richard Hardin, repeated the words that united the couple in matrimony. After the ceremony a wedding feast was partaken of by the bride and groom, and the bride and groom were escorted to the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will, make Oakland their home.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Bueing, 701 West Third St., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twenty years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best available medical skill could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years, and if I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." Sold by Wood & Campbell.

Washington Letter

The fires of the summer solstice are blazing overhead, but the heat does not prevent business being done at the headquarters of the two political parties here. Rambling off from each, are ten or a dozen rooms filled with countless men and maidens decollettes, writing wrappers at full jump to every county and almost every town in the United States. The Republicans have just received a new consignment of partisan literature from the Government Printing Office, the Public Printer having given a partisan twist to the agreement in Congress to permit to more "leave to print" matter not uttered on the floor. Republicans all over the city are laughing very heartily at having cunningly outwitted their adversaries.

The plea of our delegates to the Chicago convention to have self-government restored to the District, whereby we shall have once more a mayor and common council to govern us instead of the three commissioners appointed by the President, has been turned down by the convention without discussion. If a vote of the city could be taken it would probably result in an approval of the present order of things, however undemocratic and absurdly incongruous it may appear. We, at least, escape the St. Louis, New York and Philadelphia boot and corruption.

Nan Patterson, whom this city graduated to the stage and producers' dock has a few friends and many admirers here. They agree that she has hysterical fainting spells often that is absolutely necessary for they believe that she is in no danger of being punished for the murder of Censer Young. The dismal fact seems to be that any woman can kill any man with impunity if she can make her way to his presence when he is alone. Self defense or "emotional insanity" will always bring her off unscathed.

A murder here this week has some unusual features. A negro named Hamilton killed his wife on Monday night by strangling her to death with his hand. He then wrote a letter saying that he committed the deed on account of jealousy and because she refused to obey him and added that he supposed he would have to "swim for it," but he might just as well, for life was getting burdensome and "then everything will be off my mind." In this anticipation the blackamoor is certainly mistaken, unless the Presbyterians and Catholics are the ones to be hanged.

The opening of Levi Leiter's will has few surprises. He leaves the bulk of his property to his wife, and a couple of millions apiece to his children with provisions for a great deal more. He gives Plunger Joe a couple of million dollars and forgives him the ten million which he lost in the wheat pit. So Joey has $100,000 annual income, enough to pay the expenses of his contemplated trip to India on a visit to Lady Curzon, the Vicerine. They say that he has sworn off from heavy speculation. The Letters will still continue to read here.

It is alleged that on the strength of their official position some of the clerks employed in the Department of War, contract debts in this city which they Starting Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. 321 arland Bentoville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Throat and Lung trouble. Consumption, Pleurisy and Grip. Guaranteed by C. J. Haydon Druggist. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

Feel Impending Doom

The feeling of impending doom in the many victims of Bright's disease and diabetes has been changed to thankfulness by the benefit derived from taking Foley's Kidney Cure. It will cure incipient Bright's disease and diabetes and even in the worst cases gives comfort and relief. Slight disorders are cured in a few days. "I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Danvers, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man." Sold by Wood & Campbell.

Three Physicians Cured Him Without Success

W. L. Yancey, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Kentucky treated me without success. I then took Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief, and the second cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy. Sold by Wood & Campbell.

Lancaster People Gullied

A telegram from Lancaster states that about twelve months ago an investment company of New York engaged in correspondence with a number of Lancaster citizens, urging them to place funds in their hands to speculate in wheat and other articles, the company getting a small per cent for their trouble. For several months those who invested received large profits. This lured many others to invest until some of the best business men in the town became involved. A letter from the concern Monday announced to each of its customers that the firm was financially wrecked and that probably later on would resume business. Those who invested from this place, are out $10,000 to $12,000. Such losses are never to be depended upon and it is bad business as well as bad policy to make investments with outside concerns with which people are unacquainted, and are willing to promise more than legitimate interest.

CHOKING CATARRH CURED

Your Money Back If Hyomeo Does Not Cure You.

"Use Hyomeo and be cured of catarrh." Is what all who have tried it for that disease say to their friends. It is the easiest thing in the world to stop catarrh at its beginning if you use Hyomeo. Just breathe the health-giving balsamic air for a few minutes and your catarrh will be cured. In this city and neighboring towns, there are hundreds who can testify to the remarkable power of Hyomeo to cure catarrh. Many of the staunchest friends of this remedy today began its use with little hope that they would be cured, but as Wood & Campbell offered to refund the money if it did not cure, they decided to try it on that plan and were soon restored to health.

Chicken Thieves

Last Friday, Chief of Police Thompson arrested at this place two boys, Charlie Benton and Alonzo Willford, charged with stealing chickens and house breaking in Boyle county. The boys are both under twenty years of age and are reported to be members of a gang who have made it a practice of raiding chicken roosts for some time past. After the arrest the boys made a clean breast of their wrong doings and their story was startling. The plan upon which they operated was a marvellous affair in which four figured. One of the members of the firm was a bookmaker man who after receiving the stolen chickens, deducted one-fourth of the worth of the chickens for his interest. The boys said their work had been on for some time and that they had a big plan planned. Deputy Sheriff Hobson of Boyle

Lebanon Locals.

(From The Enterprise.)

William Nowcome of Bradfordsville died at his home yesterday. His interment will take place at Old Liberty cemetery today.

Sister Virginia a member of the Loretine Order, died Wednesday at Loretto Academy after a lingering illness of consumption. Her interment was held at the Academy cemetery yesterday.

William Whitehouse, aged 75, who lived on Jones' Fork, some five or six miles beyond Bradfordsville, killed himself, it is reported, Wednesday, by cutting his throat. No one knows any cause for the act.

A double wedding was solemnized at Raywick, June 23, the contracting parties being Miss Annie Bickett and H. W. Wright and Miss Mary C. Bickett and E. A. Nugent. The brides are daughters of Messrs. L. P. and D. W. Bickett, respectively. The Enterprise extends congratulations to the young couples.

Married at the Baptist parsonage in Lebanon June 23, Mr. William Peterson of Texas, Washington county, and Miss Cordia Nelson, of Marion county and a daughter of the late John T. Nelson. The happy couple were accompanied by a party of friends who returned with them to Texas after the ceremony.

By order of the Board of Health the "Yellow Flag" has been posted during the past week at the residences of Messrs. Frank Osborne and Henry Hamley, in each of which one member of the family, it is claimed, has the smallpox. There is talk that the smallpox has been in this city for more than two months; but that if it is so mild a form that it can hardly be distinguished from chicken pox. Whatever it is, those families having it should use every precaution to prevent its further spreading, and all others should do everything in their power to keep it out of their families. The Fowler family and these two other cases just referred to are all the known cases in town and a rigid quarantine is in force as to them.

New Registration Law.

The registration law passed by the legislature last winter applies to all cities of the Fifth and Sixth classes that include every incorporated town in Washington county. Under the law no citizen can vote in any election unless he is registered. "When a man is registered he is given a certificate to that effect and this certificate must be shown to the officers on election day before he can deposit a ballot. It is well for the people to bear this law in mind so they will not lose their right of franchise.

A Boy Hero

A Boland correspondent sends the following to the Standard:

The heroism of a boy transpired narrowly averted what would doubtless have proven a frightful accident to Misses Pegri Connor and Hattie Eddleman, and they probably owe their lives to his pluck and bravery. The two young women had started on a drive to Springfield, when their horse became frightened as they were passing a wagon, and wheeling suddenly started on a full-speed run. A boy whom they had just passed as he was tramping along in tattered clothing and almost barefooted, saw them and clutching the bridle of the frightened animal clung on until he succeeded in stopping him. Nor was this done too soon for they were near a high bank. Of course the boy was rewarded but one of the young women said she was sorry he was not hurt just a little, so he might have obtained a portion of the Carnegie hero fund.

There was no damage done excepting the loss of one of the rubber tires off the trap. With the usual damasceness of the Kentucky women they proceeded on their journey, rejoicing that matters had been so worse. J. E. in Bardonia Standard.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets

Better Than a Doctor's Prescript.

Mr. J. W. Turner of Tullahoma, Tenn., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from a doctor. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, it is a time would be used in preparing the medicine. Some ladies of this community conceived the idea of giving their aged relative Mrs. Eliza both Cocaough, who was born in 1830, and who is the widow of the late Wm. Cocaough, a surprise birthday dinner on the morning of June 22. At the appointed hour her children, grandchildren, relatives and friends began to gather at the old home, each family bringing baskets laden with all kinds of edibles which loving hands had prepared. At the gathering (there being about 60 present) all ages were represented, from the tender infants in their mothers' arms, to the hoary head of four score and one.

When the hour for dinner had come the table was spread which almost trembled with such a burden of good things, which was a beauty to behold. When dinner was over the crowd gathered under the shade of the tree and Rev. R. L. Purdon preached a very appropriate sermon for the occasion, after which a song was sung entitled "God be with us till we meet again," and extended to her whose was being honored their hands. The assembly was then dismissed by prayer from our aged friend Mr. Harvey Lawson, and all went home feeling that they had spent a happy day. This fair form told them that the conflicts had been long and hard, but now almost over. She will soon be ready to meet her labors.

The question asked by "Lilac" is we think, an easy problem. The readers delight in reading spiky letters, yet they do not realize the real value of a news item to a correspondent. They therefore urge long letters and do not think of supplying a single item, which would be readily accepted by "Uno" at any time.

T. Hardesty and wife and charming daughter Bessie were in our midst Friday.

One Saturday night not long ago Mr. Edward Goatley was away from home until late and on returning found a strange horse in his orchard, he examined the horse which he thought was a brown with a bald face. He then went into the house to investigate and stumbled over a saddle and this was of course more perplexing, so he went into the adjoining room and lighted a lamp. Lo! and behold, the intruder proved to be Mr. Hubert Virgin, the popular candidate for Assessor, who had ridden from Tatham Springs to Mr. Goatley's and as no one was at home he just took possession until Edward returned. Hubert was warmly welcomed as we trust he will be as Assessor.

If it is not intruding upon your patience we will ask one more question. Why can a deaf man not be legally convicted.

C. F. RUSSELL
Main St. Springfield, Ky.

has never been before the people as a candidate for office before, he is well and favorably known throughout the county as a sensible, prudent, and good business man. His candidacy is the result of considerable solicitation from his friends all parts of the county, and we have no doubt he will make a strong response for the office to which he aspires.

In this issue we announce the candidate of T. Scott Mayes for re-election to the office of County Attorney of Washington county.
In the Circuit Court Mr. Mayes, as the representative of the Commonwealth, has shown himself to be a vigorous prosecutor and as the legal adviser of the Fiscal Court and the county officials, he has shown marked business capacity, always looking to the interests of the county and advancing measures which have invariably resulted in the county's good. He first inaugurated the system of having the county levy paid at the same time as the law requires it to be paid to the State, and by this system Washington county for the first time since its existence has been placed on a cash basis.
Immediately upon his assuming the duties of the office he set to work to collect taxes from corporations which had escaped taxation for county purposes entirely, and to take such steps as would place them permanently upon the taxpaying list of the county. As the result of his labors in this direction he has succeeded in collecting back taxes to the amount of about $10,000, from sources which had never before contributed one cent of taxes to the county, town, or any of its taxing districts, and has added from this source an increase of revenue to the county of about $1,400 per annum. Mr. Mayes being an expert accountant, Washington county has been greatly benefitted by his experience in aiding to bring about reform in keeping the accounts of the county's finances, and today we have the best system in the State. He is a Democrat who contributes his time and energies to every contest that comes whether it be county, State or National, and there are few Democrats from this county who have contributed more to the success of the party than he. As a party worker, organizer, and campaign speaker he has but few equals, and as a lawyer stands high at the local bars.

Wonderful things are done to the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns, and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in the time of the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the relief it affords in all cases which its ingredients entail. For sale at

A pknight has to pknight the eye as the brain to understand all these signs as well as direct all these movements.

In playing Weber's "Moto Perpetuo" about ten consecutive impressions a second, so that in quick music it seems that a pknight does not see every note simply, but in groups, probably a bar or more at one view.

An Extraordinary Memory.
At the Glasgow congress on psychology, Professor Mueller of Goettingen told of a certain Dr. K. who within a few seconds was able to work out the square of any number of five figures given to him. He was also able to learn by heart and repeat a row of figures 204 in less than twelve and a half minutes. Professor Mueller asserted that no such memory for figures had ever been known, the record having been 204 figures in seventy-five minutes.

Flint and Steel.
To what am I indebted for the honor of this visit? Unquestioned Calver-to my courteous servant, perhaps, madam, I dare say she forgot that you were not at home.—Chicago Tribune.

The Truth.
"Mr. Hardup may have used a great deal of fatigues to win the horse."
"No," he simply told her the truth."
"Indeed?"
"Yes," he said he couldn't live without her."

Spiritual.
Miss Orlight—"I don't like the color of my hair. Miss Youngblood—Don't let that bother you, my dear. It can't be long now before it turns gray."

A Little Cold Blooded.
"Speaking of cold blooded methods in business," said a southern merchant, "reminds me of a story they tell about New York business men who died suddenly in an Atlanta hotel. The coroner telegraphed to his firm, saying: 'Your representative died here today. I await your instructions.' In a few hours the answer came back: 'Search his pockets for orders. Express his samples to New York. Give the body to a medical college.'"

A Counterfeit.
"What is a counterfeit?" asked Mrs. Smithers.
"A counterfeit," replied Smithers,
"is a woman who makes the clerk pull down everything from the shelves for two hours and then buys a couple worth of larders."—Cleveland Press.

Recovery.
Friend—If your washerwoman charges by the piece, it must be rather expensive. Young Housekeeper—Oh, she hasn't any charge that her billboard never has—New York Weekly.

Necessity Drives.
It—I don't understand your extran-gance! Before we were married you and the reputation of being very economic. She—Necessity—But you forget, dear, that before we were married I didn't have the money.—Detroit Free
